LEAGUE MILK HIGHER FOR AUG.

Producers Will Be Paid $0.74 Per Quart By Kingston Dealers, Or $0.16 More Than In July. And Increase Will Probably Be Passed On To Consumer.
A statement by the Dairymen's League News says:

The board of directors of the Dairymen's League, meeting in New York city on July 20th and 21st, voted to recommend to sell league milk for the following prices for the month of August.

Milk in Class 1 will be sold for $2.90 per hundred; this is for all milk sold by the dealer in fluid form. Class 2 includes milk manufactured in several different forms, the chief of which is that made into cream, ice cream, and into cheeses of the soft cheese type; the price for all milk sold in this class will be $2.25. Class 3 includes sweetened condensed, and evaporated, and powdered whole milk, sold in cases. The price for milk sold in this class will be determined at the end of the month by adding 45c to the price of milk figured upon actual butter quotations. Class 4 includes all milk sold in the form of butter and American cheese, and the price is determined at the end of the month by the actual market quotations for those commodities. These prices to farmers are a very decided advance upon those the farmers received for July. The price for Class 1 milk in July was $2.20; Class 2, $1.55; and Class 3, $1.50.

The reason for the advance at which the Co-Operative Association has been able to sell milk in New York city and especially the decreased production owing to the effect of the bad drought and the hot weather upon cows.

At the last meeting the league directors voted to either buy or erect plants at the following places: Fulton, Chenango Forks, Edmeston, West Edmeston, Mt. Upton, Unadilla, Clinton, Camden, and Cooperstown.

The league wholesale price to dealers in Kingston will be $3.44 per 100 pounds, which is $0.74 per quart. The July price to dealers was $2.71 per 100 pounds, $0.58 per quart.

RUM RUNNERS IN FOR TROUBLE

Discovery of Magnitude of Coastal Smuggling Operations Determines Officials to Use Naval Vessels, Aeroplanes and Submarines to Suppress Them.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—Rum runners are to be driven from the high seas as were the pirates of a century or two ago.

With aeroplanes, submarine chasers, and the largest peace time enforcement fleet since the days of piracy, the government is preparing to wage a war to a finish against the wholesale, international conspiracy, recently unearthed, to smuggle liquor into the United States, according to federal officials in New York.

The navy will cooperate in the announced today, in the fight against the fleet of wind-jammers, equipped with wireless and 50 horsepower auxiliary engines, which has been pouring liquor into this country across the Atlantic seaboard from Maine to Florida. Evidence that millions in foreign and American capital is back of the rum running scheme has spurred prohibition enforcement officials here to a great counter attack. The hooch ships will be spotted on their voyages by navy aircraft, run down by the mosquito fleet, sub-chasers and captured by heavily armed cutters if present plans are carried out.

Besides the rum running fleet of British and American vessels, Leroy W. Ross, U. S. attorney, who is in charge of the defense of the port of New York against the liquor importers, said today that he has information that there is a shore auxiliary of auto trucks and distributing offices, employing hundred of men.

U. S. MAIL LINE IS DEFIANT

Say British Shipping Interests Made It Impossible for Them to Carry Out Contract With Shipping Board and Will Fight Seizure of Ships at Every Point.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—"We absolutely refuse to give up a thing," DeLancey Nicoll, Jr., attorney for the United States Mail Steamship Company, nine of whose ships have been seized by the shipping board, said today.

A long and bitter legal fight for possession of the disputed vessels was to begin today when counsel for the Mail apply for a temporary restraining order preventing the shipping board from interfering with operation of the ships.

"Under no circumstances will we turn over one piece of property to the shipping board—in fact, the United States Mail does not admit the vessels have gone out of its possession," Nicoll said.

The company claims the seizure was in violation of an arbitration clause in the contracts.

The United American lines, of which W. Averell Harriman is head, may be named co-defendant, as the shipping board proposed turning over the seized vessels to the Harriman company.

The United States Mail officials who charged foreign influence was responsible for the seizures, today said they were prepared to substantiate these charges. They declare that a banking group allied with British shipping firms has made it difficult for them to obtain the money necessary for strict compliance with the terms of their contract with the shipping board.

DECOMPOSED BODY FOUND; LOOKS LIKE MURDER

Berry Picker Runs Across Remains Of Young And Well Dressed Man Mile From Passable Road In Hills Back Of Marlborough.

While John Sears of the town of Marlborough was picking huckleberries on the mountain about six miles back of the village Sunday morning he came upon the decomposed body of a man lying along a wood road. The body had been there considerable time as the flesh was nearly gone from the bones. Mr. Sears immediately notified Coroner George Suitor who in turn notified the sheriff's office and District Attorney Traver.

Under-Sheriff Haulenbeck and Assistant District Attorney Brooks went to Marlborough and made an investigation. From what could be learned the body was that of a young man, the teeth were in excellent condition and evidently those of a young person. The man weighed perhaps 150 pounds and has brown hair, a sandy moustache and was well dressed. The suit was of blue material with a light stripe, the shoes were black lace with rubber heels and he wore gray hose and white ribbed underwear. One indication that instead of suicide it might be a case of murder was the tan leather belt. The belt had been broken back of the buckle and the front of the pants were torn open as though there might have been a struggle. One of the pants legs was torn and the other leg pulled up to the knee as though the body might have been dragged along the ground.

The body was found along a wood road about a mile from the road which turns off to the right at Marlborough village and at a place called by the residents "Break Neck Hill."

When discovered the body lay about a foot from the road and was partly covered up with leaves. How long the body had lain there it was difficult to tell. The head which lay slightly down hill from the body was detached from the body but this may have been caused by the decomposition of the body.

Everything about the body pointed toward a well dressed person. The shirt was of white material with a black stripe and the tie was of black knit material. In the shirt were link cuff buttons containing a small stone and there was a tie clasp on the front of the shirt.

On account of the suspicious nature of the surroundings and the belief that there may have been foul play Under-Sheriff Haulenbeck and Dr. Loughran and Van Hovenberg will go to Marlborough today and make a thorough investigation of the surroundings where the body was found.

The road on which the body was found is impossible for automobiles and it is necessary to leave a car about a mile below where the body was found and walk up the mountain.

From the condition in which the clothing was found the authorities believe that the body may have been dragged along the ground for some distance.

CREDITS KING IN IRISH PEACE MOVE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—Whatever success may spring from conferences now going on between Lloyd-George, De Valera and Sir James Craig, in search of an Irish settlement, will be due to the initiative of King George, and his visit to Ireland, according to Lord Northcliffe, here today on his world tour.
H. Wickham Steed, editor of Lord Northcliffe's London Times, was authorized by the publisher to issue a statement to this effect.
"Are you going to shoot all the people in Ireland," the king is said to have demanded of Lloyd-George. "No, Your Majesty," the premier replied.
"Well, then," said King George, according to Northcliffe, "you must come to some agreement with them. This thing cannot go on. I cannot have my people killed in this manner."
King George then went to Ireland personally, Northcliffe said. He saw General Smuts, and interested him in the Irish question. The cabinet tried to spike his peace efforts, but the public resented this, and when George and Mary returned from Ireland they had the biggest reception since 1914.

LEAGUE MILK HIGHER FOR AUG.

Producers Will Be Paid $0.74 Per Quart By Kingston Dealers, Or $0.16 More Than In July. And Increase Will Probably Be Passed On To Consumer.
A statement by the Dairymen's League News says:
The board of directors of the Dairymen's League, meeting in New York city on July 20th and 21st, voted to recommend to sell league milk for the following prices for the month of August.
Milk in Class 1 will be sold for $2.90 per hundred; this is for all milk sold by the dealer in fluid form. Class 2 includes milk manufactured in several different forms, the chief of which is that made into cream, ice cream, and into cheeses of the soft cheese type; the price for all milk sold in this class will be $2.25. Class 3 includes sweetened condensed, and evaporated, and powdered whole milk, sold in cases. The price for milk sold in this class will be determined at the end of the month by adding 45c to the price of milk figured upon actual butter quotations. Class 4 includes all milk sold in the form of butter and American cheese, and the price is determined at the end of the month by the actual market quotations for those commodities. These prices to farmers are a very decided advance upon those the farmers received for July. The price for Class 1 milk in July was $2.20; Class 2, $1.55; and Class 3, $1.50.
The reason for the advance at which the Co-Operative Association has been able to sell milk in New York city and especially the decreased production owing to the effect of the bad drought and the hot weather upon cows.
At the last meeting the league directors voted to either buy or erect plants at the following places: Fulton, Chenango Forks, Edmeston, West Edmeston, Mt. Upton, Unadilla, Clinton, Camden, and Cooperstown.
The league wholesale price to dealers in Kingston will be $3.44 per 100 pounds, which is $0.74 per quart.
The July price to dealers was $2.71 per 100 pounds, $0.58 per quart.
The price for August is $0.16 higher than the price of July.
The local retail milk dealers have not yet announced what milk will cost Kingston consumers but it is expected they will raise the price 1 1/2 cents a quart.

RUM RUNNERS IN FOR TROUBLE

Discovery of Magnitude of Coastal Smuggling Operations Determines Officials to Use Naval Vessels, Aeroplanes and Submarines to Suppress Them.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—Rum runners are to be driven from the high seas as were the pirates of a century or two ago.
With aeroplanes, submarine chasers, and the largest peace time enforcement fleet since the days of piracy, the government is preparing to wage a war to a finish against the wholesale, international conspiracy, recently unearthed, to smuggle liquor into the United States, according to federal officials in New York.
The navy will cooperate in this announced today, in the fight against the fleet of wind-jammers, equipped with wireless and 50 horsepower auxiliary engines, which has been pouring liquor into this country across the Atlantic seaboard from Maine to Florida. Evidence that millions in foreign and American capital is back of the rum running scheme has spurred prohibition enforcement officials here to a great counter attack. The hooch ships will be spotted on their voyages by navy aircraft, run down by the mosquito fleet of sub-chasers and captured by heavily armed cutters if present plans are carried out.
Besides the rum running fleet of British and American vessels, Leroy W. Ross, U. S. attorney, who is in charge of the defense of the port of New York against the liquor importers, said today that he has information that there is a shore auxiliary of auto trucks and distributing offices, employing hundred of men.

AFTER RUM RUNNERS.

Navy Seaplanes Now Patrol Boreas Coast.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, July 25.—Navy seaplanes have taken up the duties of "gun patrol" off this coast, following the finding of many empty jammer turn bottles along the shore here. The planes have been called into service on account of the difficulty of reaching the coast in this vicinity, a wilderness of sand dunes, infested by many jackals, and for smugglers to land contraband goods.

According to reports, the jammer is being brought ashore through the shallow water, a stream of water is navigated, and readily accessible to the light launches of the gun runners.

U. S. MAIL LINE IS DEFIANT

Say British Shipping Interests Made It Impossible for Them to Carry Out Contract With Shipping Board and Will Fight Seizure of Ships at Every Point.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—"We absolutely refuse to give up a thing," DeLancey Nicoll, Jr., attorney for the United States Mail Steamship Company, nine of whose ships have been seized by the shipping board, said today.
A long and bitter legal fight for possession of the disputed vessels was to begin today when counsel for the Mail apply for a temporary restraining order preventing the shipping board from interfering with operation of the ships.
"Under no circumstances will we turn over one piece of property to the shipping board—in fact, the United States Mail does not admit the vessels have gone out of its possession," Nicoll said.
The company claims the seizure was in violation of an arbitration clause in the contracts.
The United American lines, of which W. Averell Harriman is head, may be named co-defendant, as the shipping board proposed turning over the seized vessels to the Harriman company.
The United States Mail officials who charged foreign influence was responsible for the seizures, today said they were prepared to substantiate these charges. They declare that a banking group allied with British shipping firms has made it difficult for them to obtain the money necessary for strict compliance with the terms of their contract with the shipping board.

The premier declined to state whether an official statement on the Irish situation would be possible this week.

DECOMPOSED BODY FOUND; LOOKS LIKE MURDER

Berry Pinner Rans Across Remains Of Young And Well Dressed Man Mile From Passable Road In Hills Back Of Marlborough.

While John Sears of the town of Marlborough was picking huckleberries on the mountain about six miles back of the village Sunday morning he came upon the decomposed body of a man lying along a wood road. The body had been there considerable time as the flesh was nearly gone from the bones. Mr. Sears immediately notified Coroner George Sutor who in turn notified the sheriff's office and District Attorney Traver.

Under-Sheriff Haulenbeck and Assistant District Attorney Brooks went to Marlborough and made an investigation. From what could be learned the body was that of a young man, the teeth were in excellent condition and evidently those of a young person. The man weighed perhaps 160 pounds and has brown hair, a sandy moustache and was well dressed. The suit was of blue material with a light stripe, the shoes were black lace with rubber heels and he wore gray hose and white ribbed underwear. One indication that instead of suicide it might be a case of murder was the tan leather belt. The belt had been broken back of the buckle and the front of the pants were torn open as though there might have been a struggle. One of the pants legs was torn and the other leg pulled up to the knee as though the body might have been dragged along the ground.

The body was found along a wood road about a mile from the road which turns off to the right at Marlborough village and at a place called by the residents "Break Neck Hill." When discovered the body lay about a foot from the road and was partly covered up with leaves. How long the body had lain there it was difficult to tell. The head which lay slightly down hill from the body was detached from the body but this may have been caused by the decomposition of the body.

Everything about the body pointed toward a well dressed person. The shirt was of white material with a black stripe and the tie was of black silk material. In the shirt were link cuff buttons containing a small stone and there was a tie clasp on the front of the shirt.

On account of the suspicious nature of the surroundings and the belief that there may have been foul play under Sheriff Haulenbeck and Dr. Loughran and Van Hovenberg will go to Marlborough today and make a thorough investigation of the surroundings where the body was found.

The road on which the body was found is impossible to automobiles and it is necessary to leave a car about a mile below where the body was found and walk up the mountain.

From the condition in which the clothing was found the authorities believe that the body may have been dragged along the ground for some distance.

Silk Kerchiefs For Town And Field—Meet The Jacket That Doesn't Meet In Front—White Buck Shoes And All The Trimmings—Clocks On Socks

New York, July 23

LIKE a picture or a porcelain, clothes are things one must live with, and a certain air of personal pride is inseparable from the possession of the genuinely good. Thoughtful men set pride above price in the selection of their wardrobe. Your creed, my creed, the world's creed is Nothing for Nothing. You get to a ha'penny exactly what you pay for. A bargain has been wittily described as something somebody doesn't want offered to somebody who doesn't want it either, in the hope that the bait of low price will make him buy it anyway. Price soon wears out of the mind, but quality never wears out of the clothes.

Well-woven, well-designed garments last far longer, because, being cut and fitted to the tenth of an inch, they arch and flex with the wearer's every posture and movement and, thus, are not subject to strained stitches, drawn buttons, pulled armholes, scant shoulders, tight seats and other faults of clothes made to accommodate a price, instead of to fulfill a standard. These are self-evident truths, but it is well to be reminded of them afresh in times when some men are overly keen about the mere consideration of cost, forgetting Art, Taste, Refinement, Fashion.

French, English, Japanese

Colored silk handkerchiefs, instead of the conventional linen affair, are very smart just now, because of their lightness and the fact that they permit the introduction of the boldest blendings, as Persian and Paisley patterns. Such handkerchiefs are carried both with town and sporting clothes in colors to tally with suit, shirt or cravat, if desired. One of these handkerchiefs is portrayed in the foregoing sketch. It is French crepe or English foulard or Japanese silk with a plain-colored center and a deep hand-blocked border revealing spaced diamond designs of brightly contrasting color. On the links or at the nets this sort of handkerchief may be folded very narrow and drawn through the trousers loops, serving as a picture belt, or it may be loosely knotted around the throat, serving in place of collar and cravat.

Jackets of surah, pongee or Shantung silk are capital for country knockabout, though they are too fine and light to withstand the usage of rough-and-tumble sport. Garments of this type should be held to their place—seaside, mountains and summer recreation. The spruce 2-button jacket, pictured above, almost comes together in front, but is kept open by means of a buttoned belt. The two straight side pockets and the slanting breast pocket are patch and the lapels are narrow, tapering into broadness at the peak. Cricket cloth trousers go well with this jacket. The white cheviot shirt shown has the attached self collar and the pointed-end, bow-knot tie is of polka-dotted design. All in all, this is a turnout which has both coolness and unusualness to recommend it.

Two Feet Ahead In Fashion

Instep trimmings of various kinds are applied to white buck shoes this summer. For example, there is what is known as the Canadian Pattern, a solid piece of contrasting leather, black or dark Russia, which forms the instep and upper. A prepossessing departure from this now familiar design is illustrated in preceding paragraph. This shoe is of white buck with cap, instep crease, eyelid facings and heel trimming of black calf or Russia leather, achieving an effect at once novel and engaging. The toe is oval; the sole is rubber; the heel is beveled; the laces are white. Clocks on socks are striking this season, all sorts of contrasting colors being used, up to the most minute variations of shade. The triple-striped cross-topped affair, reproduced here, is a favorite and may be procured in twenty or thirty different-hued clocks from the ground—black, white, tan, gray and navy-blue being the colors preferred by the generality of men.

The Last-Minute Mode Of The Week

London tailors are cutting trousers extremely wide and, frequently, the bottoms are finished with that perceptible bell-effect flare familiar to men who have lived abroad.

Give Or Take.

The church collector approached a certain Kingston citizen and held out the box.

"I never give to missions," whispered the citizen.

"Then take something out of the tray," whispered the collector, "the money is for the 'leather.'"

PREACHER WITHIN RIGHTS

In Scoring Immorality Even If It Doesn't Have Much Effect.

In the course of a sermon in the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church Sunday morning, the Rev. Dr. George
W. Grinton said:

In The Freeman the other evening, attention was called in an editorial to the emphasis placed by some preachers on prize fighting and other sensational topics, to the discard of the Ten Commandments.

The preacher is well within his rights in denouncing anything he considers immoral. At the same time man is a fighting animal and loves a contest.

Again and again reference is made by the pulpit to the immodest dress of the day, without making any noticeable impression. Woman loves to follow the fashion, and one extreme generally follows another.
There is no doubt but what an emphasis placed upon the Ten Commandments and the golden rule is needed more than questions of casuistry, which are more or less debatable. Years ago Gladstone said what the modern world needs is a new sense of sin. I say what we need today is a new respect for law.
To sort out the laws as one paw over a barrel of apples will not do.
If the laws are improper and unjust, by education and agitation we may bring about their repeal. In the meantime we are to obey them. The man who is a law unto himself is an undesirable citizen and an anarchist.
If we do not obey the Ten Commandments our moral sense is in a state of disintegration and decay.

Good Printing

THE kind of printing that pays dividends is the kind you should have.
Pale, muddy, poorly arranged printed matter is worse than none. The quality of your business is often judged by the quality of your stationery.
—Inferior printing gives an impression of cheapness that is hard to overcome, while good printing carries with it a desirable suggestion of quality.

We produce only Quality Printing. Whether you want an inexpensive handbill or a letterhead in colors, if you order it from us you will be sure of getting good work.
We have the equipment and the "know how" that enables us to get out really good print-

Rights Of Utilities As To Abrogation Of Rates

In the course of the litigation over the increase of gas rates in New York City the Appellate Division of the New York Supreme Court has made the following pronouncement on the rights of utilities to abrogate existing CONTRACT RATES—a question which had given rise to the dispute between the gas utilities and the municipality and on which the lower courts were in conflict.

"The gas corporation may not legally assume to be vested with the rate-making powers and to be the arbiter of the adequacy and reasonableness of the rates. It may not assume power to decide these questions in its own favor and proceed to abrogate the contract whose benefits it has long enjoyed. It may not, of its own motion, say that it will no longer be bound by a contract because it has become unprofitable. The courts even will not relieve parties from hard bargains simply because they are such. The gas corporation has the same right to ask modification of the contract IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST that the municipality would have if the physical property and apparatus used by the corporation became insufficient or dangerous to health or if the rates in the course of time became exorbitant and unreasonable—the right to appeal to the sovereign state or its DELEGATED agent having dominion over such matters. The corporation has no greater right than the municipality to determine for itself the merits of such a disputed question."

The delegated agent that the Court refers to above is the Public Service Commission to which the State Legislature has delegated its rate making power.

The Company appealed to the Public Service Commission to modify the City Contract which the Commission did in the interest of the Public. To have done otherwise would have meant disaster to an important public service.

MARY M. TOLLEY DIES PEACEFULLY

Woman Who Spent 44 Years of Her Life in Kind and Patient Teaching of Youngest Public School Children Here Found Dead in Chair at Home—Left No Relatives But a Host of Friends.

Miss Mary M. Tolley, who was retired from the city teaching force four years ago after a service of forty-four years in the city schools, was found dead at her home, No. 160 Green street, on Sunday morning at nine o'clock. She was seated in a chair and death had come peacefully. Neighbors noticed that lights were burning in her room and the discovery of the body followed. She had been dead several hours.

Miss Tolley was one of the most highly respected and best beloved teachers in the city. She joined the teaching force of the old Kingston School District in September, 1877, and continued to teach until she was retired on a pension four years ago. Her entire teaching service of forty-four years was spent in the primary grade at School No. 7, which at the time she began teaching and until the consolidation of the city school system was known as School No. 11.

The average number of pupils who entered the primary grade at that school each year during her term of service was sixty, which would make a total of 2,640 pupils who began their public school education under her instruction. Many men and women in Kingston who have reached the age of maturity recall with pleasure their school days in Miss Tolley's room. Her entire school course was marked by kindness and gentleness. She knew how to manage children and her earnestness made an impression on childish minds which was retained in later life. Her influence in the formation of the character of hundreds of men and women of today is incalculable.

Her retirement followed an injury she received while crossing North Front street, when she fell in trying to avoid being struck by an automobile. For many years she lived with her mother on Albany avenue near the head of Broadway. Since her mother's death she had lived alone, but she said she never felt lonely. She enjoyed the companionship of books and had many friends, many of whom began their schooling in her room.

The teaching force of old School No. 11 at the time Miss Tolley began her service there, several of whom are now dead, consisted of Oscar B. Shaffer, principal; Anna Boice, Elizabeth Low, Julia H. Bruyn, Lois J. Haynes, Kate Schoonmaker, Mary Kerr, Mary M. Tolley. At that time R. C. Barrett was superintendent of schools. J. Allen Barringer was principal of the high or central school department and Jennie Van Buren as second assistant. Prof. Charles Curtis was principal of the Kingston Academy, with Charlotte E. Vinton and J. E. Merrill as assistants. Albert J. Miner was principal of School No. 5, Henry D. Darrin was principal of School No. 8 and Andrew E. Schepmoes was principal of School No. 15. The last named school afterward became the correction hospital and later was sold and burned down. Other members of the city teaching force at that time were Sarah Sparling, Celis duBois and Julia W. James at School No. 5; Vina Gedkins, Jane L. Van Buren, E. Henrietta Ingram, Kate Norris, Anna M. Lines and Kate Hamilton at School No. 8; Lida Crossman at School No. 15. All of the members of the board of education at that time are dead. They were Charles Reynolds, Henry D. Baldwin, Charles W. Fisk, Alfred Hudler, Augustus T. Newton, C. P. Ridenour, Daniel Bradbury, Elissa M. Brigham, James E. Ostrander and Frederick L. Westbrook.

Miss Tolley had no near relatives. Her funeral will take place from the undertaking parlors of A. Carr & Son, No. 1 Pearl street, on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. The remains will be taken to Hudson for interment.

PLAN TO MAKE MENDING EASY

Convenient Arrangement to Make the Task Agreeable and to Do Work Systematically.

For some reason or other mending is one of the hardest tasks in the weekly regime of many housewives, and whenever a woman says that she dreads mending and does not get time to do it as she should, she never has taken the time to put her mending materials into convenient position. One of the most convenient little mending equipments consists of a little built-in cupboard placed in the side of the wall of the downstairs sitting room. On the inside of the door of this cupboard are placed little shallow strips of wood and big nails driven into these strips so that the nails are exposed perhaps a couple of inches. These nails are perhaps an inch and a half apart. On each of the nails is a spool of thread, the white threads arranged together according to the degree of fineness. Colored threads are placed together on another row, and various sorts of mending threads all grouped together elsewhere.

There are shelves in the cupboard to hold various mending materials and there is one shelf for stockings and other shelves for other sorts of mending. On Monday night or Tuesday when the clean clothes come in from the line they are looked over and those that need mending are put in their place in this cupboard. The mending is always done before ironing. This mending cupboard is downstairs, so it is a simple operation to transfer the clothes to the mending cupboard from the clothes basket. Usually the mending is done Tuesday evening, the mothers and daughters of the family taking it for granted that some of their time should be devoted to this work until the shelves in the mending cupboard are cleared.

IN-BETWEEN SEASON HATS

Seasonable Headgear Includes That for Sports; for Afternoon and Evening Wear.

For the in-between season there are many distinctive and individual hats at reduced prices. Sport hats to wear with one's jersey suit, bandied sailors for the strictly tailored outfit and fetching hats for more dressy occasions.

Banded sailors have again been favored and are a delightful change from the more elaborate models. Navy blue straw, faced with white and banded in blue and white is a well-liked type, and there are any number of combinations of colors pleasing to all. However, it is often difficult to get a becoming sailor, as there is a great difference in the shapes.

Jenny little pull-on sport hats in soft, adjustable grosgrain ribbon, nicely stitched, come in brown, navy, orchid, Copenhagen, pink, orange, sand, pheasant, jade, white and black. Perky bows add quite a dash to hats, and when one takes a navy blue taffeta poke, faces it with white and places a rakish bow at the front, the result is very smart. This type hat goes wonderfully well with a tricot suit for daytime wear.

If you go to tea or to a matinee you will require a dressy hat, the kind approved by fastidious women. Of irresistible charm are the new silk braids shown in delicate colors.

White Evening Dress.
The vogue of the all-white evening dress seems to have come into its own with the late spring. Many beautiful all white gowns are to be seen at every evening function of any importance along the north and south shores. Combinations of kitten-scar cape and soft laces, canton crepe and chiffon, white chantilly and net make the most attractive of the all-white effects. Black wraps of elaborate design generally are worn with the white dresses.

Inexpensive Trimming.
Linen frocks are often trimmed with scallops bound in a contrasting shade. These scallops are seen around the hem of the skirt, the sleeves and the neck line. This makes a very inexpensive yet very effective garniture.

Extensive Canadian Province.
An area equal to three times the area of France, which is 215,805 square miles, could be cut out of the province of Quebec and there would remain an area twice that of Hungary.

MADE FIRST METALLIC PEN

Unfortunate Frenchman, Victim of Courtesan's Enmity, Was the Inventor, According to Historians.

The invention of the metallic pen belongs to France, the first writing implement of this character being used by the famous state prisoner, La Tude, who called down the wrath of Mme. de Pompadour by his passionate letters. La Tude was the natural son of a prominent court official and was brought up for a military career, but in his mistaken youthful adoration he misinterpreted the smiles of Mme. de Pompadour. In an effort to prove his fidelity his friends devised a harmless toy which exploded noisily when Mme. de Pompadour opened it after receiving a letter from La Tude warning her of impending danger from her enemies. When the contents of the box were found to be nothing more dangerous than alum powder, La Tude was clapped into a dungeon, where he spent 25 years. In order to occupy his time La Tude tried to write his memoirs by means of an improvised fishbone pen. When this broke he begged a copper coin from the prison priest. This he ground into the shape of a pen by rubbing it against the cell wall. He also made the first known ink tablets by preparing bread crumbs pellets with his own blood. This happened about the year 1740, according to the French researchers. Metal pen points were not marketed, however, until nearly 60 years later.

Dig for Fish in Florida.

Isaac Walton scarcely would believe his eyes if he were to walk through the country near here, according to a telegram from New Smyrna, Fla., and encounter negroes digging live fish from the ground as if they were potatoes, and even persons accustomed to the miracles of this age would look twice and then set out in search of an oculist.

But the mudfish, a queer member of the flint tribe, inhabits streams or ponds which have mud banks or bottoms. The fish is black and weighs up to five or six pounds. When the water in a pond evaporates, as it does during certain seasons of the year, leaving only a mass of mud which on the surface is practically dry, it doesn't worry the fish. They merely burrow into the mud to wait for rain and apparently continue to live as long as the earth is wet. The negroes come then by exploring the mud with their bare feet.

The fish is edible, but is not a favorite because of its stringy and coarse flesh.

Fish Nets From Spider Web.
Native to New Guinea is a giant spider, its body as big as a basketball, with hairy legs two inches long. It spins a web six feet in diameter and very strong.

Advantage of this fact is taken by the cannibals of the island, who set up long bamboo sticks in places frequented by the spiders, thereby offering an invitation to the arachnids to spin webs across them.

By this simple means (if one is to believe the story) ready-made nets are obtained which the cannibals use for catching fish.—Philadelphia Ledger.

PYTHIAN SISTERS AT THE EAGLE

The Grand Temple of the Pythian Sisters will be in session all this week in connection with the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias being held in this city. The Pythian Sisters is the ladies' auxiliary of the Knights of Pythias. The Grand Temple officers, led by Grand Chief Emma M. Tower of Gloversville, and representatives of all the temples in the state will be in attendance. The headquarters of the Sisters will be at the Eagle Hotel, and their sessions will be held in the beautiful lodge room of the Elks.

The Pythian Sisters now number nearly 300,000, and are one of the largest ladies' organizations in the country. The mothers, wives, sisters and daughters of Knights are eligible for membership. It was organized with the purpose and desire of promoting the moral, mental and social character of the members, cultivating a spirit of fraternal love which shall permeate and control the daily lives of the members, ministering in all ways to the wants of the sick, distressed or needy, paying the last sad tribute to the dead, and daily exemplifying in every possible way the golden rule.

The first Temple was organized in 1888. In 1890 it was given recognition by the Knights of Pythias. While it had to overcome all the obstacles that present themselves to any organization, it has enjoyed a splendid prosperity and a growth that has been phenomenal. This past year showed the greatest gain of any in its history. From present indications this will continue and the order will increase in numerical strength and usefulness.

AT THE THEATERS.

William Russell at Keweenaw—Edith Roberts at Auditorium.

"Children of Night" is the new William Russell photoplay at Keweenaw's tonight. It is an underworld drama and obtains its title from the name of a secret society in which the hero becomes involved and he promptly gets into his element—defying criminals, indulging in fierce battles with strong men—and in the end rescuing from criminal association a charming girl with whom he has fallen in love in a most unconventional way. Fox News, Bray cartoons and a Prima colored picture are added attractions. Tuesday an all star cast in "Someone in the House." It is the story of a crook who prided himself on his dress, his manners and the fact that he always had been scrupulously unscrupulous. A hectic battle that would make the far famed Donegal Fair appear like a straw-berry festival was staged on board a sea-going schooner in Edith Roberts' latest "Thunder Island," at the Auditorium tonight, a tale of the astounding adventures of a little white tiger in the South Sea Islands. Tomorrow, William Russell in "Children of Night."

Opera House Wednesday and Thursday, "Minus Marriage," feminine comedy with capable cast. Always a matinee on Thursday.

PREACHER WITHIN RIGHTS

Is Scoring Immorality Even If It Doesn't Move Much F.R.

In the course of a sermon in the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church Sunday morning, the Rev. Dr. George W. Gristen said:

In the Freeman the other evening, attention was called in an editorial to the emphasis placed by some preachers on prize fighting and other sensational topics, to the discard of the Ten Commandments.

The preacher is well within his rights in denouncing anything he considers immoral. At the same time man is a fighting animal and loves a contest.

Again and again reference is made by the pulpit to the immorality of the day, without making any noticeable impression. Woman likes to follow the fashion, and one extreme generally follows another.

There is no doubt but what an emphasis placed upon the Ten Commandments and the golden rule is needed more than questions of casuistry, which are more or less debatable. Years ago Gladstone said that the modern world needs in a new sense of a law, say what we need today is a new respect for law.

To set out the law as one gives over a barrel of apples will not do. If the law is to be respected and obeyed, by education and persuasion, we have been about their respect, in the meantime we are in every thicket. The man who is a law unto himself is an undesirable citizen and an anarchist. If we do not obey the Ten Commandments, every moral union is in a state of disintegration and decay.

Rights Of Utilities As To Abrogation Of Rates

In the course of the litigation over the increase of gas rates in New York City the Appellate Division of the New York Supreme Court has made the following pronouncement on the rights of utilities to abrogate existing CONTRACT RATES—a question which had given rise to the dispute between the gas utilities and the municipality and on which the lower courts were in conflict.

"The gas corporation may not legally assume to be vested with the rate-making powers and to be the arbiter of the adequacy and reasonableness of the rates. It may not assume power to decide these questions in its own favor and proceed to abrogate the contract whose benefits it has long enjoyed. It may not, of its own motion, say that it will no longer be bound by a contract because it has become unprofitable. The courts even will not relieve parties from hard bargains simply because they are such. The gas corporation has the same right to ask modification of the contract in THE PUBLIC INTEREST that the municipality would have if the physical property and apparatus used by the corporation became inefficient or dangerous to health or if the rates in the course of time became exorbitant and unreasonable—the right to appeal to the sovereign state or its DELEGATED agent having dominion over such matters. The corporation has no greater right than the municipality to determine for itself the merits of such a disputed question."

The delegated agent that the Court refers to above is the Public Service Commission to which the State Legislature has delegated its rate making power.

The Company appealed to the Public Service Commission to modify the City Contract which the Commission did in the interest of the Public. To have done otherwise would have meant disaster to an important public service.

GOLDEN RULE HOME-BREW

New York newspaper headlines sometimes are misleading. Headlines in Metropolitan newspapers on Tuesday announced a conviction had been obtained of a "home-brewer."

Reading the account, however, disclosed that the defendant had been operating a still and it was recalled that when he was arrested he was charged with having supplied his neighborhood with distilled spirits.

While the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead Act and the Mullan-Gage laws had the natural result of increasing the demand for something with a concentrated "kick," most of the liquor distilled by amateurs is too "green" to be either palatable or beneficial.

Home-brewed beer and home-made wine, on the contrary, are very palatable when made right. Although breweries were established in Ulster county more than two hundred and fifty years ago, most of the early settlers brewed their own beer and that custom continued until the product of the regular breweries became comparatively cheap.

As industries increased, money became more plentiful and by degrees people forsook home-brew and instead purchased what they needed at wholesale rates or else sought the tavern for refreshment.

Prohibitionists naturally drove liberty-loving people to the brewing of beer and the manufacture of wine and cider in their homes. In some cases they have sought to distill the product of the fruit or the grain but satisfactory results in home-distilling have been the exception rather than the rule.

The contrary, however, has been true of home-brewing and home wine-making. Prohibitionists are divided in three classes: Those who want their neighbors to drink nothing stronger than water, those who believe their neighbors should spend their money for highly-colored fluids charged with carbonic acid gas, those who believe their neighbors should be content with home-made root beer and home-made "unfermented" grape juice.

Many of the latter put their beliefs in practice in their own homes. Are they sure that the yeast which they add to their root beer extract does not yield more than one-half of one per cent alcohol during the process of fermentation? Are they positive that when their "unfermented" grape juice is bottled or jugged there is not more than the one-half of one per cent of alcohol which they insist must not be contained in their neighbor's kitchen or cellar products?

The means adopted by Prohibition enforcement officials now do not meet with any greater public support than official efforts when the American colonies were dependencies of Great Britain whose object was to tyrannize and terrorize a liberty-loving people by compelling obedience to laws which even the enforcement officials admitted were unjust and unreasonable.

Occasional convictions were obtained then just as occasional convictions are obtained now, but juries exercised then as they exercise now their right to pass judgment both on the defendant and the accuser, bringing into play the exercise of what is known as "common sense."

In fact, the ordinary individual who is not trying to regulate the affairs of his neighbor must supply the lack of this commendable quality on the part of the Prohibition regulator. As long as this condition exists men and women more than ever before will follow the Golden Rule: "Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you."

The Prohibition self-regulator alone will be the exception in following this rule.

FORGOTTEN

The National Government is taking steps to reduce expenses by trying to get along without many desirable things that are not absolutely and immediately essential, as well as by eliminating useless work and needless salaries.

Individuals have been doing the same thing for a long time. Prudent individuals follow this policy. Homely old proverbs such as "A penny saved is a penny earned," "Pay as you go," "Look before you leap," "Save something for a rainy day," are brought to mind once more and practiced.

Smaller units of government, unofficial uplift societies and various agitators, faddists and self-constituted guardians of the public welfare who seem unable to exercise their guardianship without soliciting and spending the money of other people, have thus far shown slight tendency to follow the example of the Federal Government. Economy, prudence and the paying of debts are ignored and "How much can we get by begging and borrowing?" seems to be the only question they think of. Even though the work done be necessary and useful, there is no excuse for reckless expenditure, fancy salaries and little or no effort to lay aside a surplus, or even to pay debts. The great effort seems to be to get more, to spend more and to owe more.

"I don't want to make the world over—I want to help steady the darn thing, for it needs it," says a character in a recent work of fiction, when urged to get out and do "great things." If more persons would help to "steady the darn thing," exercising their energy on work within their capacity, the result would cost less money and be of far greater value than trying to make the world over.

What do you want to know about Nature Subjects? Send any questions of general interest to the Nature Notes Department of this paper. Look for answers in this column.

Can You Answer These Questions?

1. What is the difference between a cyclone and a tornado?

2. Is snow-on-the-mountain poisonous?

3. Will wrens and martins live in the same house? We have a large wren house but would like to have some martins in it.

Answers In Tomorrow's Nature Notes.

Answers To Previous Questions.

1. Are earthworms the same as earthworms, and if so, how did they get the name?

Yes, earthworm is the common name for that member of the Oligochaeta, or "segmented, bristle-bearing worms" used as bait by one who angles, or fishes. The word angle comes from an old Greek one meaning a hook or barb. Hence to angle is to fish with a hook, and an angle worm is the bait put on the hook.

2. In making a web, how does a spider get from one place to another to make the first line.

It may begin by forcing from the spinnerets against some point of attachment, to which it sticks, and then extending this nucleus by more spinning, may either drop to some point below, paying out line, or travel to some near-by point, in both cases attaching the new end to some firm object. This makes a bridge. If the web is to span a gap the spider can not drop or crawl to it, it spins out a length of line and lets the wind carry the line till it strikes some object and sticks fast. The spider then fastens its own end of the line, and a bridge is ready for use.

3. Is the Carolina parakeet extinct?

We cannot answer positively. As a wild species, this bird has probably gone the way of the wild pigeon, partly as a result of its being hunted for its feathers, and partly because farmers have shot it to end its depredations on fruit trees. Up to a few years ago a few specimens were living in the Zoological Gardens at Washington, D. C.

Superstition Concerning Caut.

The caul is a thin membrane found encompassing the head of some children when born, and it is considered a good omen for the children themselves. This superstition probably became widespread about the time of the Emperor Antoninus Pius. When he was born he had a band of membrane around his forehead in the shape of a diadem, and he attributed all his good fortune to this caul, and this started the sale of them. A few sailors carrying them who then happened to be saved from shipwreck diverted the superstition toward mariners.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A statement by an Eagle scout: Many a person has proved himself an utter failure in life because he lacked the pep and the push that compel success.

Why? Simply because he hadn't been brought up to put his shoulder to the wheel. He lacked that great virtue so vitally important, so necessary for a successful career—fighting spirit!

One of the objects of the boy scout organization is to teach self-reliance and persistency; to stick to a proposition till it is accomplished; to use discouragement as an impetus toward that accomplishment. What finer lesson could there be? The boy scout is taught to carry his own load without a murmur, without "pulling a long face" or falling by the wayside and to carry it with a smile. Each and every scout is taught to meet the turning of fate without a flinch.

Though the boy scout's motto is "Be prepared," we might supplement it with still another: "Don't give up till the whistle blows."

Take the average scout: what is failure to him? He is taught to smile at defeat. He hits in all the harder, more determined than before to attain his goal. He takes pride in this spirit and climbs the hill under his own power, not under the powers and deluges of others. He puts full faith in himself and builds his castle on the foundation of persistency. He stands for the square deal, for all that is just in life, and in standing for these principles he stands for what his entire organization represents.

BOY SCOUT FRIEND TO TREES.

Every boy scout is a pledged conservationist. He will not only run the risk of being responsible for a forest fire himself, but he will preach the hows and whys of forest fire prevention wherever he goes. He will not willfully hack or injure trees in any way, and he will interest himself in fighting tree enemies of all sorts like the pine blister and the tent caterpillar. The trees are his friends and he is ready to do them a good turn whenever opportunity offers.

BOY SCOUTS

Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

ST. LOUIS HONORS SCOUTS

St. Louis celebrated the week of April 4 to 9 as Boy Scout week, to the great interest of the community. The mayor of the city issued the following proclamation in connection with the event:

Whereas, The American boy embodies the hope of civilization and progress of our country, our state and our city, as the boy of today is the man of tomorrow; and

Whereas, Every citizen has a responsibility to encourage all efforts that have for their purpose influence and training of boys, so they may develop to the stature of manhood, safe, clean and prepared to undertake their individual parts in the work of the world with an understanding of their obligations as citizens, husbands and fathers; and

Whereas, The president of the Boy Scouts of America, Colin H. Livingstone of Washington, D. C., a man of large affairs, is making a special trip to St. Louis at personal sacrifice to encourage and counsel with the local boy scout organization; and

Whereas, The boy scout movement in this community has been given gratifying impetus during the last two years, resulting in many forward steps such as the purchase and full payment for a wonderful camp site in the Ozarks, a broadening of the scope of the work in St. Louis, participation in the Francis Home for Boy Scouts, and Junior Chamber of Commerce; and

Whereas, The citizens of St. Louis are obligated to the boy scouts for valuable service rendered on numerous occasions, such as the various campaigns during the war, the very efficient handling of the ushering at the Municipal opera, and in fact every public function where their services are needed;

Therefore, As mayor of the city of St. Louis, I hereby proclaim the week of April 4 to 9, 1921, as Boy Scout week, and request the mothers and fathers and all other citizens of St. Louis to give special thought, attention and encouragement to the boy scout activities and organization during that week, as evidence of their love for boys and their genuine appreciation of a movement which has been defined as "a process of making real men out of real boys with a real program," and which leads the boy in early life to do his duty to God and country, to help other people at all times and to keep physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

THE FIGHTING SPIRIT.

A statement by an Eagle scout: Many a person has proved himself an utter failure in life because he lacked the pep and the push that compel success.

Why? Simply because he hadn't been brought up to put his shoulder to the wheel. He lacked that great virtue so vitally important, so necessary for a successful career—fighting spirit!

One of the objects of the boy scout organization is to teach self-reliance and persistency; to stick to a proposition till it is accomplished; to use discouragement as an impetus toward that accomplishment. What finer lesson could there be? The boy scout is taught to carry his own load without a murmur, without "pulling a long face" or falling by the wayside and to carry it with a smile. Each and every scout is taught to meet the turning of fate without a flinch.

Though the boy scout's motto is "Be prepared," we might supplement it with still another: "Don't give up till the whistle blows."

Take the average scout: what is failure to him? He is taught to smile at defeat. He hits in all the harder, more determined than before to attain his goal. He takes pride in this spirit and climbs the hill under his own power, not under the powers and deluges of others. He puts full faith in himself and builds his castle on the foundation of persistency. He stands for the square deal, for all that is just in life, and in standing for these principles he stands for what his entire organization represents.

BOYS AT KNAUTH HOME REMEMBERED

The people of Kingston are not content with providing the maintenance of the Soldiers' Home opened by Mrs. Knauth on Albany avenue, but some of them come forward each week to furnish amusement and entertainment for the boys quartered there.

Last week Mrs. Watson Freer took ten of the soldiers to Albany where they went through the state capitol visited the educational building and saw all the sights of the capital city of New York.

The men who were chosen to take this trip enjoyed every minute of the ride, the sightseeing and the refreshments.

The Kiwanis Club invited all the men to their weekly luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday. This hospitality is extended by the club once a fortnight so that each group of soldiers at the home will in turn enjoy a Kiwanis meeting.

Some of the American Legion members came in with cigars and cigarettes on Wednesday evening and had a "get together" time with the out of town boys, which was enjoyed by them all.

Friday evening is usually given over to informal dancing each week. Those of the boys who are able to dance look forward to these evenings with particular pleasure, and the ones who only look on find their enjoyment in the music and the companionship of the young ladies, so that the weekly dance is one of the most popular entertainments offered.

Last Friday Mrs. Chandler and Miss Helen Westbrook brought ten young ladies in to dance, and Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck furnished the ice cream.

HE BENT IRON BARS WITH HANDS

And So Escaped From Cell in City Hall Lockup Sunday Evening Only to be Recaptured—John Johnson Also Had Nose for Booze and Found it Quick.

"Right here Your Honor," pined a weak voice as Judge Schrick called out "John Johnson," in police court this morning, and a rather weak looking and slight built individual arose from his seat and stood before the bar of justice.

"You are charged with public intoxication," said the court, eyeing John.

"Guilty, Your Honor," agreed John with a smile on his face.

"How many times have you been arrested before?" asked Judge Schrick.

"Never, Your Honor," replied John with another engaging smile.

"Well I believe you," replied the court, "and this being your first offense I fine you the minimum fine for drunkards," five dollars.

"This is the second time Johnson has been arrested in Kingston," said Sergeant Hanley with a smile to the court as John was paying his five spot to the court.

It seems to start at the beginning that Johnson is employed on the big government steam dredge that arrived in Rondout creek late Saturday night to start dredging the mouth of the creek this week. John evidently has a nose for booze for he lost no time in acquiring a cargo, and was running with full steam ahead on Ferry street Sunday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock when Officer Reardon hove in view and clamped an anchor on John who was taken to the city hall lockup and placed in cell No. 1 and the heavy iron barred door clanged shut and locked.

About 7 o'clock that evening one of the officers happened to wander into cell No. 1 and found it empty. An alarm was sent out and while a search was being made Sergeant Phinney heard someone tip-toeing in the darkened corridor outside police headquarters and asked "Who is there?"

The only response was the echo of John's flying footsteps as he made a bee line for the open door to freedom with Sergeant Phinney in pursuit. John was overhauled at the foot of the hill leading to the electric company's power house, and brought back to the lockup. Later a fried came to John's rescue and put up $15 cash bail for John's appearance this morning in court.

How John got out of the cell was easily seen when the big iron door was examined. He is also much stronger than he appears for he had sprung the lower half of the iron bars wide enough to make a space to crawl through the locked door into the cell corridor. He then hid in the dark and when he thought he was unobserved made a rush for freedom.

As John had no tools with which to work he had evidently bent the iron bars with his hands. He is 43 years old, and said that the dredge expected to have two weeks' work here dredging out the mouth of the Rondout creek.

BIG SHRINE DOINGS
At Middletown Witnessed By Many From Here.

There was a large delegation of local Shriners from Kingston at Middletown last Saturday to witness one hundred and nineteen candidates make their first memorable pilgrimage and become members of Mecca Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., of New York city.

The new nobles, most of them from the metropolis, had made great preparations to cross the trackless desert for the love of the knowledge and the Nobility of Masonry.

The initiation ceremonies took place at the state armory which was filled with members from many Shrines, the state of Oklahoma being represented. A gorgeous ceremonial procession in full splendor was formed and marched through the principal streets of Middletown and then to the Orange county fair grounds which was crowded with spectators both afternoon and evening, where amusements consisting of a circus, balloon ascension, dare-devil diving from the air, big barbecue, band concerts by the Mecca Band, fireworks and special set pieces and dancing were enjoyed. It was estimated that from twenty-five to thirty thousand people were present at this Hay-makers' session of Shriners.

The Hon. Roselyn M. Cox, mayor of Middletown, is high priest and prophet of Mecca Temple.

Among the Shriners present from this city and vicinity were Dr. A. A. Stern, W. N. Conner, H. Lefever, Dr. W. Smith, G. Schryver, D. Terry, W. Turck, Dr. G. Ross, Dr. Bayler, W. Newkirk, A. E. Pronefeld, W. Van Etten, Dr. Broberg, Mr. Merritt, Mr. Fields, Mr. Meador, Mr. Hines, Mr. Snyder and others.

Mistletoe Customs.
Mistletoe, when not suspended in the air, is regarded by the superstitious as a harbinger of bad luck. There is an old reason for hanging a bunch of mistletoe in the center of the room, a custom which had nothing frivolous about it in the first place. Balder, in Scandinavian mythology, was killed by an arrow of mistletoe. On his being restored to life it was promised that the plant never again would perpetuate evil unless it touched the earth.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE GREAT CHORUS.

"You have heard many stories of the adventures of the boy and girl," said Daddy, "who went to the House of Secrets. They found the answers to their questions and now their journey is at an end. Of course they will have their own adventures just as everyone has adventures every day."

"But now that we've followed them to the end of the journey we must leave them, for they're going back to try to live up to the secrets they learned."

"Then, too," Daddy continued, "the birds and the animals, the fairies and the butterflies, the frogs and the many, many other friends we have in the great world of out-of-doors say that they have been somewhat neglected, of late."

"But we had to let some of their stories go until we, too, heard the secrets of the House of Secrets, and now that we've heard, we will go back to our old friends, the animals, and the birds and the other creatures we've grown to know and find so interesting."

"That's good," said Nancy, "for I like the stories of animals and birds best, but it was nice to hear of the wonderful House of Secrets and how the boy and girl adventurers got there and learned the secrets."

"It was fine," said Nick, "and I'm sure our many friends who can read our stories were glad to hear of those most unusual adventures."

"And just one more story about the boy and girl adventurers," said Daddy, "before we leave them. For they know their way home all right. We don't need to help them!"

"Besides, they have so many friends when they want to be with as long as possible."

"The boy and the girl had told Master Thoughtfulness and the Courier Co-operation that since they had visited the House of Secrets they no longer wanted to be leaders, but they wanted to be happy like all the people they had met who had taught them secrets."

"Ah, ah, ah," Master Thoughtfulness said, and threw back his head and laughed. "I'm so happy, oh, so very, very happy!"

"For don't you see," Master Thoughtfulness continued, "that you've not only learned the secrets our names tried to tell you!

"You've learned co-operation. And co-operation is really, really, Real Brotherhood."

"It's not just co-operation (or getting along) with me or the Courier Co-operation, but with everyone and by everyone."

"The boy and the girl looked at each other. An awful thought had just come to them."

"Secrets, they had just learned many secrets."

Master Thoughtfulness seemed to read what they were thinking.

"They're secrets we want to share with everyone," he said, "but only those who're sincere and who're real adventurers can learn them."

Then all the inside doors were suddenly lifted above and disappeared just as quickly and mysteriously, and everyone came from all the rooms, and everyone joined in and sang.

"The voices rose higher and higher. Stronger and clearer came the notes of the song."

"Then a great organ from above pealed out notes which sent thrills of pride and joy through the boy and the girl."

"Brotherhood," sang that mighty chorus, "Brotherhood!"

"The boy and the girl joined in the chorus."

"Brotherhood," they sang with the others, "Brotherhood!"

Evidence of Fine Character.

When we see a boy rejoicing over another boy's success, we say, "Good!" For it is one evidence of a fine character, this rejoicing in another fellow's success, this making his interest your interest. A boy whose interests are bounded by his own hat and shoes will be a dead failure in life. Cut out envy as you would cut out a cancer. Frank stands at the head of the class; you may have studied equally hard but Frank is naturally brighter than you. Look him in the face, pat him on the back, and say: "Good for you, Frank!" Why not appreciate every bit of brightness in the other fellow? Nothing like it to stimulate your own gray matter.

Grotesque Chinese Superstition.

A belief exists among the Chinese that if a father or mother be seriously ill, the most effective way of curing them is for one of their children to cut a tiny piece of flesh out of his own arm or leg and administer broth made of the flesh in question to the suffering parent.

CAS BUGGIES—The origin of "Blue Monday"

HISTORY REVEALED BY DEBRIS

Interesting to Speculate What Future Explorers Will Think of That of the Present Day.

When the archeologist wishes to know which of two civilizations is the older he seeks a place where the debris of one is piled upon that of the other—superposition, he calls it. Clark Wissler writes in Harper's. Again, if he wishes to determine the periods in the development of a single city he seeks out the places where the daily refuse was dumped. Naturally, the bottom of the dump is the older, the top the most recent. Experience has shown that pottery decorations and styles are subject to frequent changes and that where pottery is made numerous fragments find their way to the dump, where they form successive layers in order of their dates.

The first effective use of this method was in the valley of the Nile, where the refuse of the ages, in the strata of which was found the key to the history of early Egypt. The same method has been applied to the valley of the San Juan in New Mexico, in which lies the Animas river and this ruin, and to the neighboring valleys where similar ruins are found. The extensive researches of Kidder, Morris and Nelson have established a relative chronology for the pottery types in this valley.

Dog's Sense of Danger.

Perhaps the most surprising and interesting story concerning dogs is one that occurred in the writer's own town, in England. One Sunday afternoon, in August of 1917, a man proceeded to his allotment for a few hours work. He took with him, as usual, his dog, a great pet. Toward 5 o'clock the dog grew very restive and kept trotting excitedly toward home and back again. Every while as eloquently as Balaam's ass, he was speaking his mind and saying with eyes and tail and voice and action, "Please come home." The man grew curious and consented. He had scarcely reached the shelter of his house when a number of Gothas floated over the town, dropping their ghastly messengers of death. Afterward it was found that a bomb had exploded on his allotment, smashing to splinters the chair on which he usually rested. Does any one think that this man needs the recommendation of the S. P. C. A? I think not. Nor would the world at large if they simply considered the amazing and generous service which animals render to men. —Our Dumb Animals.

When Paris Was Besieged.

When the Germans closed in around Paris in 1870 the French capital was isolated from the world save by balloon communication, and very rare escapes through the walls and the lines. In the Washington Star of November 2, 1870, is printed an extract from a letter received by a Washing-tonian that day from Paris by the balloon route, as follows: "We have now been 27 days isolated from the rest of the world, so that we know little or nothing of what occurs beyond our walls. Our citizens are determined to make an energetic defense and have plenty of provisions and ammunition for several months. An army of 400,000 men is being organized here, which will be ready to co-operate with our relief forces now mustering in the provinces. M— being a National Guard, is on duty at the fortifications 24 hours out of 48."

Fox Likes the Hunt.

Old Reynard has been pursued on horse and with hounds in nearly every state east of the Mississippi, where he is found in sufficient numbers to render his hunting an object of sport, writes Dr. R. W. Shufeldt in the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. In New England and in the northeastern section generally it is considered legitimate to shoot the pursued fox at the finish, or during any part of the chase, while in Kentucky and Tennessee and other southern districts such a practice is considered highly un-sportsmanlike, and would subject the perpetrator to the severest criticism from every member of the guild. Strange as it may appear, it is nevertheless true that experienced old foxes, and those that have become familiar with the ways of men, horses and hounds, seem to enjoy the fun quite as much as the hunters do.

Stick to Wooden Clothes-Pin.

About 30,000,000 feet of lumber each year is used in the manufacture of clothes-pins. There has been no improvement in the art of manufacturing clothes-pins for 40 years. The method was invented in New Hampshire, and nearly, if not all, the machines now in use were manufactured there. New Englanders have been the originators of most of the methods used in woodworking, and so far as clothes-pins are concerned have not been surpassed. For the last ten years there have been at least five inventions annually for improvements in clothes-pins submitted to the patent office, but none found any degree of favor with the housewives, who are still loyal to the old-fashioned wooden clothes-pin.

Chinese Lily Fine Plant.

One of the most successful bulbs for house culture is the Chinese sacred lily, a variety of the narcissus which is imported from China. Place in a dish about three inches deep, put in one and a half inches of sand, and cover with one inch of gravel, white pebbles, or broken marble. On this set the bulbs to prevent them from floating. Place them in a sunny window, and they will bloom perfectly. The flowers are white, with a yellow-tinted cup, the stems having a tinge, with from three to seven blooms. The Chinese cut away the hard skin on the top of the bulb, which seems to facilitate the growth, but in cutting, one must be careful to cut only one-eighth of an inch in depth, or the leaf growth will be injured.

The Snail and the Screw.

It is no doubt true that nearly all human inventions have been suggested by natural objects. Fremont of the French School of Mines points out an interesting example in the case of the screw, the fundamental idea of which, he believes, was suggested to primitive man by the spiral shape of the edible snail. It was not the shape of the shell that suggested the screw, but the spiral motion which it is necessary to give the body of the snail in order to withdraw it from the shell. This at once showed that an object of a screw shape embedded in a solid powerfully resisted attempts to withdraw it by a straight pull. The hint was enough, and the screw became one of the earliest of man's inventions.

WHY NOT DECIDE your advertising contracts in the same way?

THE AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS is a statistical organization organized to determine the facts about newspapers. It sends an auditor into the office of each member and he investigates the records.

He checks the net paid circulation.

He finds out how subscribers were secured.

He looks into the distribution of the paper.

THE REPORT then sent out from the Bureau's office is used by advertisers to determine the paper's suitability for carrying a campaign.

You can tell the complete actual circulation.

Why people buy the paper.

What people read it.

THE FACT that a paper joins the A. B. C. means it has no secrets to withhold. All the cards are there for a showdown. A. B. C. reports are now demanded by most advertisers both as an evidence of good faith and as the most reliable statement of a paper's condition.

FRANCE SAID TO HAVE GIVEN IN

Paris Paper Asserts She Has Consented To Meeting of Supreme Council Before Experts Report On Upper Silesia.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, July 25.—Tension between France and Great Britain over Upper Silesia was eased today as the result of a conciliatory note from Paris to London, according to the well-informed Echo de Paris. This newspaper stated that France is now willing for the supreme council to meet within ten days for discussion of the Upper Silesian issue. At same time France agrees to abandon her insistence that the experts complete their labors in Upper Silesia before the supreme council meets.

(Paris dispatches last week quoted Premier Briand as saying that he could not consent to a meeting of the Supreme Council before the end of August or the first of September.)

A more truculent view was taken by the Matin.

"England" said the Matin, "is quarrelling with France because she promised Upper Silesia to Germany if Germany signed the indemnity ultimatum in London last May. In any case France refuses to be bluffed and intends to despatch the necessary troops to Upper Silesia despite the veto of Premier Lloyd George."

Despite the reported movement towards an Anglo-French compromise it was reported that France was making preparations to send the Eleventh Division to Upper Silesia. Owing to the refusal of Germany to permit the passage of French troops over German soil arrangements were made to send the troops via Antwerp and Danzig.

The foreign office is moving cautiously and is anxious to do nothing that will encourage Germany to resist France or stir up trouble in the east.

On her part, France is reported to have consented to the British demand for a meeting of the Supreme Council before the end of July.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

(By 1921 Western Newspaper Union)

What we need more than any other quality is an increase in patriotism, more of the fighting blood of our ancestors. The true patriot lives for his country and dies if necessary for it. We need more of the kind that live for it who give time, thought, money and energy in making the world better. We may each have a share in the great work.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

Now that strawberries are plentiful, let us try this tempting recipe.

Strawberry Toast.—Have ready some slices of toast, well buttered. Mix well two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and a cupful of sugar; put the mixture slowly into a cupful of boiling water stirring constantly. Cook in a double boiler until thick and pour one-fourth of a cupful of orange juice and remove from the fire. Stir in gently a cupful of ripe berries. Pour over the toast and serve immediately.

Cherry Dumplings.—Remove the connecting tissue from a half-cupful of sweet and chop fine mix with two cupfuls of flour, one-half-teaspoonful of salt, and cold water to make a dough. Roll out an inch thick and over the surface well with sliced cherries. Dust with sugar; roll and tie in a cloth; place in boiling water and cook two hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Banana Trifle.—A dessert which is easy to prepare and is equally good made using one-half cupful of chopped peanuts, one cupful of crushed bananas, and one half-cupful of grated coconut. Arrange after mixing well, and serve on individual plates with orange juice for sauce.

Breakfast Bacon With Mushrooms.—Take a dozen good-sized mushrooms, clean and lay aside; cook the bacon until crisp; remove the bacon to a hot platter and add the mushrooms to the hot fat; cook until tender, season with salt and pepper and serve with bacon and buttered toast.

Prune Flip.—Take 50 prunes, a half-cupful of chopped nuts, the whites of four eggs and four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Stew the prunes until soft; chop with the walnuts; add sugar and oil in the beaten egg whites. Bake in a well-buttered baking dish until firm.

"Good Queen Bess" of England.

Elizabeth, the "Good Queen Bess" of England, whose reign from 1558 to 1603 was one of the most glorious periods in the history of her country, was the daughter of Henry VIII and his second wife, the famous Anne Boleyn. When Anne fell from favor and was beheaded, the young princess was declared illegitimate and for a time had an unhappy life. Finally, however, she was given her place in the succession, after Edward and Mary, and during Edward's reign she lived a peaceful life. While Mary was on the throne Elizabeth was more or less an object of suspicion, for it was well known that she had been brought up a Protestant, but at Mary's death in 1558 her right to the throne was unquestioned. The great issue confronting her was that of religion. She restored Protestantism, reinstated the English Book of Common Prayer and asserted the royal supremacy over the church, but she avoided fanaticism and showed herself willing to call to her aid Catholic as well as Protestant ministers.—Kansas City Star.

Arabian Horse Has Less Backbone.

The tradition ascribing to the Arab horse extraordinary endurance is sustained by abundant evidence. H. K. Bush-Brown, who presents the case for the Arab in the Journal of Heredity, offers an explanation of the extraordinary endurance of animals of this breed based in part on the fact that the Arab has only five lumbar vertebrae (between the ribs and the pelvis) while all other families of horses have six. This difference in structure is believed to explain why the Arab, though small, can carry great weight. The anomaly illustrates the relation between structure and function.

Suit for divorce has been brought against Philip M. Shaw, millionaire New York broker, by his wife, Mrs. Elinor J. Shaw, in which she names as co-respondent Miss Madeline La Barre, twenty-year-old "Butterfly" of the Ziegfeld Follies. Shaw has now found himself caught between the wrath of two women. Besides answering his wife's charges, Miss La Barre has turned against him. Miss La Barre, who is in Boston, where she fled with her mother to avoid notoriety, says she was duped by Shaw, who, she says, represented himself as a single man. They became engaged, Miss La Barre declares.

Hupmobile

Our honest conviction is that no other car in the Hupmobile class presents so many of the good mechanical points which are usually confined to cars selling for much more.

To begin with, the Hupmobile is manufactured in Hupmobile plants, by skilled Hupmobile workmen. Motor, clutch, transmission, axles are Hupmobile products—with no limit placed on the quality of materials or workmanship by some outside manufacturer. That means that Hupmobile engineering and production facilities, and the will and intent to give the buyer all he pays for, have full sweep.

More than anything else, perhaps, that accounts for the greater economy, the longer life, and the higher re-sale value which make the Hupmobile worth what it costs.

GIANT CUNARD MAURETANIA AFIRE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

BOOZE CRAFT IN THE OFFING

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Atlantic City, N. J., July 25.—A mysterious three-masted schooner said to have 50,000 gallons of whiskey in kegs aboard and innumerable cases of wines and liquors, was the central object today in Uncle Sam's efforts to run down the great "booze fleet" that is believed to have smuggled gigantic quantities of "hooch" ashore all the way from Long Island Sound to Chesapeake Bay.

"Lay down your money and come and get the stuff," is the radio message said to have been flashed from the schooner, which is hovering outside the three mile limit but has thus far evaded the formidable fleet of coast guard cutters and naval scout planes trying to detect her.

Baron a True Diplomat.

From London comes a story of Baron Harashi, which, if not true, deserves to be true. And if it is true, he is a diplomat to his finger tips. At dinner recently he sat next to a lady who talked to him for an hour. When the coffee hove in sight, said the lady, "You must think I am very fond of the sound of my own voice." Said the baron: "I knew you liked music."—Japan Advertiser.

ELLENVILLE'S MUSICAL CLUB

The Ellenville Musical Club celebrated its fifth anniversary Wednesday evening, July 20, in Memorial Hall. Members and guests in large numbers enjoyed an evening of "American music" which had been the subject of last season's work. It was a diverting summer program.

Several pretty costume numbers were introduced and the individual as well as choral numbers were delightful. The Women's Choral is a development of the Musical Club the past two seasons under the efficient direction of Harry P. Dodge, of Kingston. It has become an important feature, which has been carried on most successfully.

Organized in 1916, federated in 1917, the Ellenville Musical Club has steadily grown and maintained a high standard of work, ranking as one of the most wide-awake in the federation (National Federation of Musical Clubs).

The anniversary program Wednesday evening included a greeting from the club's most capable president, Mrs. R. H. Terwilliger of Mt. Pleasant, who in turn, paid a pleasing tribute to the organizer and former president, Mrs. Henry Horton.

The anniversary program rendered was as follows:

- (a) "The Year's at the Spring"..... Mrs. H. H. A. Beach
- (b) "The Clock"..... James H. Rogers
- (c) "Greeting"..... Mrs. R. H. Terwilliger

ESOPUS.

Esopus, July 25.—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ganoung and daughter, Elsie, of Downsville visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ganoung in Poughkeepsie Saturday and part of Sunday, returning to Esopus in time for the afternoon church services. Their many friends were glad to see them in their accustomed place once more. Sunday evening Mr. Ganoung led the Epworth League devotional meeting. Monday forenoon they went to Kingston, where they were met by the Rev. and Mrs. William H. Austin and motored back to Downsville. Mr. and Mrs. Ganoung will probably return to their home in Esopus during the fall or early next spring.

Elsie Ganoung, Harriet Baker, Florence and Gladys Mott, Ruth Garrison and S. E. Mott, Jr., were guests of Velma and Orman Hermance Thursday afternoon. After a swim at Indian Rock they enjoyed games and refreshments on the lawn.

Miss Mildred Decker of Marlborough, N. Y., was an over-Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harlowe McLean.

Mrs. Katherine Garrison was called to her home in Saugerties on Friday on account of the illness of her mother-in-law.

WHY

Law Officers Are Universally Known as Policemen.

In ye olden days the law officer in England whose duty it was to apprehend criminals, was known as "the cat-pole" because of a peculiar instrument he used to catch criminals by the neck.

The pole was about six feet long and the collar was slightly flexible, and in "cat-poles" used on serious offenders the collar was studded with spikes on the inside.

While such instruments were being used in England, the French had adapted the name "police" from a long line of language ancestors, beginning with the Greek word for "state."

From the Greek the word was transferred to the German "polizei," and by the Italians as "polizia." The French corrupted it into police, and as such it was finally adopted by the English and eventually found its way to America as the term for officials entrusted with enforcing the laws of the state.

As late as 1720 the word was still considered foreign by English writers, and it was not until many years after that it came into common usage.

Other countries still use different names for law enforcement officers. The military police of Italy, for instance, are known as "sbirri," and in France they are called "gendarmes."

Americans, as usual, are not content with calling policemen simply police, and have invented a number of nicknames, such as "copper," which came supposedly from the fact that many police wore copper buttons on their uniforms, and "dicks," slang shortening for detective.—Chicago American.

LIKE THE PREFERRED STOCK

Why Experienced Investors Prefer That Form of Security to Old Form of Bond Issues.

A. B. Farquhar in his memoirs, in System, tells how the idea of preferred stock originated a good many years ago when corporate organization was less general than it is today.

"The preferred stock was devised by the longer-headed corporate organizers, who saw that in the case of an industrial organization an issue of bonds constituted a danger, for the interest had to be paid whether or not any profitable business was done. A company was safer with the preferred stock issue than with the bond issue, which generally involves a mortgage."

"But it was not until very recent years that more astute investors really began to appreciate the fact that the preferred stock of a company without bond issues is sometimes a better security than would be a bond of the same company. It took a long time to get away from the real-estate mortgage idea and to realize that an investor could in any event get a return only from what the corporation earned, and that a perfectly sound corporation might, by reason of a couple of bad years, be forced to borrow money to avoid a default in bond interest, and thus invite a failure that would not occur if it had been permitted to husband its resources through the passing of stock dividends. For a foreclosure sale of a big property rarely fetches 100 per cent cash. As a rule, however, the first mortgage bonds of good companies which have been in successful operation for some time and earned several times their interest charges are rightly regarded as safer investments than stocks."

Why Is a Curly Head?

This question is asked thousands of times, but never always answered. Yet the answer is simple—if you know the secret. The twist in an African negro's hair, for instance, tends to keep him cool during the heat of the sun. Examine the furs of the different animals and it will be seen that those with straight-haired pelts live in the northern sections of the world, while those with only fur come from the warmer climates. In the same way those which have white hair come from the region of snow and ice, while those with black or brown hair inhabit the more temperate climates. The explanation is that the fur of the northern animals is intended principally to keep its wearers warm, and that of the animals which live in tropical climates is to protect them from the direct rays of the sun—this result being accomplished by the curls and kinks of the black or brown fur.

Why Face is Uplifted.

Holding the head upward in rather a strained position has nothing to do with vision. The real reason is to be found partly in the effort of strained attention, natural in such circumstances, partly in the instinctive attempt to make the greatest possible use of the senses that are left, that of touch excited by contact of the air as it meets the face, and that of smell. The sniffing to catch some faint odor is always accompanied by an uplifted face. It begins with this and soon unconsciously becomes a habit.

Why Indians Worship the Moon.

The Shipibo Indians of South America worship the moon because she comes to give light in the night, while the sun shines only in the day, when no light is needed. This statement, made by Dr. W. C. Farnabee, the South American explorer, is quoted by Prof. Samuel G. Barton of the University of Pennsylvania, in a letter to Science.

Our Own Wireless.

A wave of thought takes a minute to travel a mile of nerve.

A touch on the face is registered on the brain and responded to in the seventh of a second. It takes a sixth of a second for the brain to respond to the sense of sight.

BOYS AT KNAUTH HOME REMEMBERED

The people of Kingston are not content with providing the maintenance of the Sick Soldiers' Home opened by Mrs. Knauth on Albany street, but some of them come forward each week to furnish amusement and entertainment for the boys quartered there.

Last week Mrs. Watson Freer took ten of the soldiers to Albany where they went through the state capital, visited the educational building and saw all the sights of the capital city of New York.

The men who were chosen to take this trip enjoyed every minute of the ride, the sightseeing and the refreshments.

The Kiwanis Club invited all the men to their weekly luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday. This hospitality is extended by the club once a fortnight so that each group of soldiers at the home will in turn enjoy a Kiwanis meeting.

Some of the American Legion members came in with cigars and cigarettes on Wednesday evening and had a "get together" time with the out of town boys, which was enjoyed by them all.

Friday evening is usually given over to informal dancing each week. Those of the boys who are able to dance look forward to these evenings with particular pleasure, and the ones who only look on find their enjoyment in the music and the companionship of the young ladies, so that the weekly dance is one of the most popular entertainments offered.

Last Friday Mrs. Chandler and Miss Helen Westbrook brought ten young ladies in to dance, and Mrs. G. D. Hasbrouck furnished the ice cream.

HE BENT IRON BARS WITH HANDS

And So Escaped From Cell in City Hall Lockup Sunday Evening Only to Be Recaptured—John Johnson Also Had Name for Room and Found it Quick.

"Night here Your Honor," pined a weak voice as Judge Schirck called out "John Johnson." In police court this morning, and a rather weak looking and slight built individual arose from his seat and stood before the bar of justice.

"You are charged with public intoxication," said the court, eyeing John.

"Guilty, Your Honor," agreed John with a smile on his face.

"How many times have you been arrested before?" asked Judge Schirck.

"Never, Your Honor," replied John with another engaging smile.

"Well I believe you," replied the court, "and this being your first offense I fine you the minimum fine for drunkenness, five dollars."

"This is the second time Johnson has been arrested in Kingston," said Sergeant Hanley with a smile to the court as John was paying his five spot to the court.

It seems that at the beginning that Johnson is employed on the big government steam dredge that arrived in Rondout creek late Saturday night to start dredging the mouth of the creek this week. John evidently has a nose for booze for he lost no time in acquiring a cargo, and was running with full steam ahead on Ferry street Sunday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock when Officer Reardon bore in view and clamped an anchor on John who was taken to the city hall lockup and placed in cell No. 1 and the heavy iron barred door clanked shut and locked.

About 7 o'clock that evening one of the officers happened to glance into cell No. 1 and found it empty. An alarm was sent out and while a search was being made Sergeant Phinney heard someone tip-toeing in the darkened corridor outside police headquarters and asked "Who is there?"

The only response was the echo of John's flying footsteps as he made a bee line for the open door to freedom with Sergeant Phinney in pursuit.

John was overhauled at the foot of the hill leading to the electric company's power house, and brought back to the lockup. Later a friend came to John's rescue and put up $15 cash bail for John's appearance this morning in court.

How John got out of the cell was easily seen when the big iron door was examined. He is also much stronger than he appears for he had sprung the lower half of the iron bars wide enough to make a space to crawl through the locked door into the cell corridor. He then hid in the dark and when he thought he was unobserved made a rush for freedom.

As John had no tools with which to work he had evidently bent the iron bars with his hands. He is 43 years old, and said that the dredge expected to have two weeks' work here dredging out the mouth of the Rondout creek.

BIG SHRINE DOINGS

At Middletown Witnessed By Many From Here.

There was a large delegation of local Shriners from Kingston at Middletown last Saturday to witness one hundred and nineteen candidates make their first memorable pilgrimage and become members of Mecca Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., of New York city.

The new nobles, most of them from the metropolis, had made great preparations to cross the trackless desert for the love of the knowledge and the Nobility of Masonry.

The initiation ceremonies took place at the state armory which was filled with members from many Shriners, the state of Oklahoma being represented. A gorgeous ceremonial procession in full splendor was formed and marched through the principal streets of Middletown and then to the Orange county fair grounds which was crowded with spectators both afternoon and evening, where amusements consisting of a circus, balloon ascension, dare-devil diving from the air, big barbecue, band concerts by the Mecca Band, fireworks and special set pieces and dancing were enjoyed. It was estimated that from twenty-five to thirty thousand people were present at this Hay-makers' session of Shrinedom.

The Hon. Rosella M. Cox, mayor of Middletown is high priest and prophet of Mecca Temple.

Among the Shriners present from this city and vicinity were Dr. A. A. Stern, W. N. Connor, H. Lefever, Dr. W. Smith, G. Schryver, D. Taylor, W. Tuck, Dr. G. Ross, Dr. Bayler, W. Neukirk, A. E. Froese, Dr. W. Van Allen, Dr. Brokers, Mr. Morris, Mr. Field, Mr. Mosser, Mr. Hines, Mr. Snyder and others.

Mittetee Customs. Mittetee, when not suspended in the air, is regarded by the superstitious as a harbinger of bad luck. There is an old proverb for hanging a bunch of mittetee in the corner of the room, a custom which had arisen from the fact that in the first place, Mittetee is a Scandinavian mythology, was killed by an arrow of sunlight. On his being captured in life it was granted that the plant never again would pre-vent evil unless it touched the earth.

"The Blue" and the "Blue Ribbon." The expression true blue is handed down from the Scotch Covenanters of the seventeenth century, who chose blue as their emblem in opposition to the royal red. The Covenanters were a group bound by a series of covenants to uphold the Presbyterian form and doctrine of faith. Their true blue was applied originally to a legal Privilege.

The blue ribbon, always the reward of the winner in a race or contest originated in the use of a blue ribbon as the distinguishing badge of the Knight of the Garter, an order founded by Edward III.

DEATH FOR TWO ENDS JOY RIDE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 25.—Two persons were carried to death when a sedan automobile plunged fifteen feet into the Gowanus canal at Degraw street, Brooklyn, early today.

Firemen raised the automobile from ten feet of water in which it was submerged and extracted two bodies, a man's and a girl's. The man had a driver's license made out to Frank P. Dowling, 238 Euclid avenue, Brooklyn, in his pocket. The girl has not been identified.

The fact that the automobile was observed zig zagging down Degraw street at a high rate of speed, and that, ignoring warning shouts it ran down a red-lanterned station which warned of the canal, led the police to believe the tragedy the culmination of a joy ride.

YANK DRIVER AND CAR WIN CLASSIC

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Le Mans, France, July 25.—An American automobile today won the classic Grand Prix for the first time. The victorious car piloted by Joe Murphy, an American driver. Ralph de Palma, another American driver, finished second.

Guyot, French, finished third, but his place may be contested as it was claimed he received assistance in changing a tire.

Murphy's time was 4 hours, 7 minutes and 11 seconds.

De Palma's time was 4 hours, 32 minutes and 10 seconds.

The French drivers did not rise to expectations. Boyer was compelled to drop out on the eighteenth lap due to engine trouble.

Murphy drove a Duesenberg car, as did Guyot.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

THE GREAT CHORUS

"You've heard many stories of the adventures of the boy and girl," said Daddy, "who went to the House of Secrets. They found the answers to their questions and now their journey is at an end. Of course they will have their own adventures just as everyone has adventures every day."

"But now that we've followed them to the end of the journey we must leave them, for they are going back to live up to the secrets they learned."

"Then too," Daddy continued, "the birds and the animals, the fairies and the butterflies—the frogs and the many, many other friends we have in the great world of out-of-doors say that they have been somewhat neglected, of late."

"But we had to let some of their stories go until we too heard the secrets of the House of Secrets, and now that we've heard we will go back to our old friends, the animals, and the birds and the other creatures we've grown to know and find so interesting."

"That's good," said Nancy, "for I like the stories of animals and birds best, but it was nice to hear of the wonderful House of Secrets and how the boy and girl adventurers got there and learned the secrets."

"It was fine," said Nick, "and I'm sure our many friends who can read our stories were glad to hear of those most unusual adventures."

"And just one more story about the boy and girl adventurers," said Daddy, "before we leave them. For they know their way home all right. We don't need to help them!"

"Besides, they have so many friends whom they want to be with as long as possible."

"The boy and the girl had told Master Thoughtfulness and the Courier Co-operation that since they had visited the House of Secrets they no longer wanted to be leaders, but they wanted to be happy like all the people they had met who had taught them secrets."

"For don't you see," Master Thoughtfulness continued, "that you're not only learned the secrets our humans tried to tell you!

"You've learned co-operation. And co-operation is really, really, Real Brotherhood."

"It's not just co-operation (or getting along) with me or the Courier Co-operation, but with everyone and by everyone."

"The boy and the girl looked at each other. An awful thought had just come to them."

"Secrets, they had just learned many secrets."

Master Thoughtfulness seemed to read what they were thinking. "Their secrets we want to share with everyone," he said, "but only those who're sincere and whose real adventures can learn them."

Then all the inside doors were suddenly lifted above and disappeared just as quickly and mysteriously, and everyone came from all the rooms and everyone joined in and sang.

"The voices rose higher and higher. Stronger and clearer came the notes of the song."

"Then a great organ from above peeped out notes which went thrills of pride and joy through the boy and the girl."

"Brotherhood," sang that mighty chorus, "Brotherhood!"

"The boy and the girl joined in the chorus."

"Brotherhood," they sang with the others, "Brotherhood!"

Evidence of Fine Character.

When we see a boy repeating over another boy's secrets, we say, "How!" For it is one evidence of a fine character, this repeating in an other fellow's secrets, this making his interest your interest. A boy whose interests are bounded by his own hat and shoes will be a dead failure in life. Out our eyes as you would cut out a cancer. Frank stands at the head of the class, you must have studied equally hard but Frank is naturally brighter than you. Look him in the face and him on the back, and say, "Good for you, Frank!" Who are you repeating over his secrets? Who are you repeating over his secrets? Who are you repeating over his secrets? Who are you repeating over his secrets?

Growing Chinese Superstition.

A belief exists among the Chinese that if a father or mother be very good in the most effective way of curing them is to let one of their children to eat a tiny piece of flesh out of his own arm or leg and administer broth made of the flesh in question by the suffering parent.

GAS BUGGIES—The origin of "Blue Monday"

HISTORY REVEALED BY DEBRIS

Interesting to Speculate What Future Explorers Will Think of That of the Present Day.

When the archeologist wishes to know which of two civilizations is the older he seeks a place where the debris of one is piled upon that of the other—superposition, he calls it. Clark Wissler writes in Harper's. Again, if he wishes to determine the periods in the development of a single city he seeks out the places where the daily refuse was dumped. Naturally, the bottom of the dump is the older, the top the most recent. Experience has shown that pottery decorations and styles are subject to frequent changes and that where pottery is made numerous fragments find their way to the dump, where they form successive layers in order of their dates.

The first effective use of this method was in the valley of the Nile, where the refuse of the ages. In the strata of which was found the key to the history of early Egypt. The same method has been applied to the valley of the San Juan in New Mexico, in which lies the Animas river and its ruin, and to the neighboring valleys where similar ruins are found. The extensive researches of Kidder, Morris and Nelson have established a relative chronology for the pottery types in this valley.

Dog's Sense of Danger.

Perhaps the most surprising and interesting story concerning dogs is one that occurred in the writer's own town, in England. One Sunday afternoon, in August of 1917, a man proceeded to his allotment for a few hours' work. He took with him, as usual, his dog, a great pet. Toward 5 o'clock the dog grew very restive and kept trotting excitedly toward home and back again. Every whit as eloquently as Balaam's ass, he was speaking his mind and saying with eyes and tail and voice and action, "Please come home." The man grew curious and consented. He had scarcely reached the shelter of his house when a number of Gothas floated over the town, dropping their ghastly messengers of death. Afterward it was found that a bomb had exploded on his allotment, smashing to splinters the chair on which he usually rested. Does any one think that this man needs the recommendation of the S. P. C. A? I think not. Nor would the world at large if they simply considered the amazing and generous service which animals render to men.—Our Dumb Animals.

When Paris Was Besieged.

When the Germans closed in around Paris in 1870 the French capital was isolated from the world save by balloon communication, and very rare escapes through the walls and the lines. In the Washington Star of November 2, 1870, is printed an extract from a letter received by a Washington that day from Paris by the balloon route, as follows: "We have now been 27 days isolated by the German army and completely isolated from the rest of the world, so that we know little or nothing of what occurs beyond our walls. Our citizens are determined to make an energetic defense and have plenty of provisions and ammunition for several months. An army of 400,000 men is being organized here, which will be ready to co-operate with our relief forces now mustering in the provinces. M— being a National Guard, is on duty at the fortifications 24 hours out of 48."

Fox Likes the Hunt.

Old Reynard has been pursued on horse and with hounds in nearly every state east of the Mississippi, where he is found in sufficient numbers to render his hunting an object of sport. writes Dr. R. W. Shufeldt in the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. In New England and in the northeastern section generally it is considered legitimate to shoot the pursued fox at the finish, or during any part of the chase, while in Kentucky and Tennessee and other southern districts such a practice is considered highly unsportsmanlike, and would subject the perpetrator to the severest criticism from every member of the guild. Strange as it may appear, it is nevertheless true that experienced old foxes, and those that have become familiar with the ways of men, horses and hounds, seem to enjoy the fun quite as much as the hunters do.

Stick to Wooden Clothes-Pin.

About 30,000,000 feet of lumber each year is used in the manufacture of clothes-pins. There has been no improvement in the art of manufacturing clothes-pins for 40 years. The method was invented in New Hampshire, and nearly, if not all, the machines now in use were manufactured there. New Englanders have been the originators of most of the methods used in woodworking, and so far as clothes-pins are concerned have not been surpassed. For the last ten years there have been at least five inventions annually for improvements in clothes-pins submitted to the patent office, but none found any degree of favor with the housewives, who are still loyal to the old-fashioned wooden clothes-pin.

Chinese Lily Fine Plant.

One of the most successful bulbs for house culture is the Chinese sacred lily, a variety of the narcissus which is imported from China. Place in a dish about three inches deep, put in one and a half inches of sand, and cover with one inch of gravel, white pebbles, or broken marble. On this set the bulbs to prevent them from floating. Place them in a sunny window, and they will bloom perfectly. The flowers are white, with a yellow-tinted cup, the stems having a tinge, with from three to seven blooms. The Chinese cut away the hard skin on the top of the bulb, which seems to facilitate the growth, but in cutting, one must be careful to cut only one-eighth of an inch in depth, or the leaf growth will be injured.

The Snail and the Screw.

It is no doubt true that nearly all human inventions have been suggested by natural objects. Promont of the French School of Mines points out an interesting example in the case of the screw, the fundamental idea of which, he believes, was suggested to primitive man by the spiral shape of the edible snail. It was not the shape of the shell that suggested the screw, but the spiral motion which it is necessary to give the body of the snail in order to withdraw it from the shell. This at once showed that an object of a screw shape embedded in a solid powerfully resisted attempts to withdraw it by a straight pull. The hint was enough, and the screw became one of the earliest of man's inventions.

These Twin Babies escaped Chafing, Rashes and Skin Irritation by use of Sykes Comfort Powder

Grand Rapids, Mich. — "These two babies have been under my care since birth. Not a day has passed without the use of Sykes Comfort Powder. They have a beautiful skin and have never had a rash or chafing, rashes, scalding, prickly heat from which so many babies suffer. I wish every mother could know about Sykes Comfort Powder. — Nettie G. Lavan, R. N., Grand Rapids, Mich. The reason Sykes Comfort Powder is successful in such cases is because it contains six healing, antiseptic ingredients not found in ordinary talcums."

CREDIT IS BASED ON CONFIDENCE

CONFIDENCE IS BUILT ON FACTS

WHEN A MERCHANT gets an order for a bill of goods he agrees to ship and render a bill, only if the buyer has a satisfactory commercial rating. Confidence in his ability and will to pay is inspired because facts have given the buyer a standing in the business world.

WHY NOT DECIDE your advertising contracts in the same way?

THE AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS is a statistical organization organized to determine the facts about newspapers. It sends an auditor into the office of each member and he investigates the records.

He checks the net paid circulation.

He finds out how subscribers were secured.

He looks into the distribution of the paper.

THE REPORT then sent out from the Bureau's office is used by advertisers to determine the paper's suitability for carrying a campaign.

You can tell the complete actual circulation.

Why people buy the paper.

What people read it.

THE FACT that a paper joins the A. B. C. means it has no secrets to withhold. All the cards are there for a showdown. A. B. C. reports are now demanded by most advertisers both as an evidence of good faith and as the most reliable statement of a paper's condition.

What we need more than any other quality is an increase in patriotism, more of the fighting blood of our ancestors. The true patriot lives for his country and dies if necessary for it. We need more of the kind that live for it, who give time, thought, money and energy in making the world better. We may each have a share in the great work.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

Now that strawberries are plentiful, try this tempting recipe:

Strawberry Toast.—Have ready some slices of toast, well buttered. Mix well two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch and a cupful of sugar; put the mixture slowly into a cupful of boiling water, stirring constantly. Cook in a double boiler until thick and clear; add one-fourth of a cupful of orange juice and remove from the fire. Stir in gently a cupful of ripe berries. Pour over the toast and serve immediately.

Cherry Delight.—Remove the connecting tissue from a half-cupful of sweet and chop-size mix with two cupfuls of flour, one-half-teaspoonful of salt, and cold water to make a dough. Roll out on a floured surface and cover the surface well with pitted cherries. Dust with sugar; roll and tie in a cloth; place in boiling water and cook two hours. Serve with hard sauce.

Banana Trifle.—A dessert which is easy to prepare and is equally good as made, using one-half cupful of chopped peanuts, one cupful of mashed bananas, and one half-cupful of grated coconut. Arrange after mixing well, and serve on individual plates with orange juice for sauce.

Breakfast Bacon With Mushrooms.—Take a dozen good-sized mushrooms, clean and lay aside; cook the bacon until crisp; remove the bacon to a hot plate and add the mushrooms to the fat; cook until tender, season with salt and pepper and serve with bacon and buttered toast.

Prune Flip.—Take 30 prunes, a half-cupful of chopped nuts, the whites of four eggs and four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Slice the prunes until soft; chop with the walnuts; add sugar and fold in the beaten egg white. Bake in a well-buttered baking dish until firm.

Suit for divorce has been brought against Philip M. Shaw, millionaire New York broker, by his wife, Mrs. Elinor J. Besides answering his wife's charges, Miss La Barre has turned against him. Miss La Barre, who is in Boston, where she fled with her mother to avoid notoriety, says she was duped by Shaw, who, she says, represented himself as a single man. They became engaged, Miss La Barre declares.

When Anne fell from favor and was beheaded, the young princess was declared illegitimate and for a time had an unhappy life. Finally, however, she was given her place in the succession after Edward and Mary, and during Edward's reign she lived a peaceful life. While Mary was on the throne Elizabeth was more or less an object of suspicion, for it was well known that she had been brought up a Protestant, but at Mary's death in 1558 her right to the throne was unquestioned. The great issue confronting her was that of religion. She restored Protestantism, reinstated the English Book of Common Prayer and asserted the royal supremacy over the church, but she avoided fanaticism and showed herself willing to call to her aid Catholic as well as Protestant ministers.—Kansas City Star.

Arabian Horse Has Long Backbone.

The tradition according to the Arabian horse extraordinary endurance is sustained by abundant evidence. H. K. Bush-Brown, who presents the case for the Arab in the Journal of Heredity, offers an explanation of the extraordinary endurance of animals of this breed based in part on the fact that the Arab has only five lumbar vertebrae (between the ribs and the pelvis) while all other families of horses have six. The difference in structure is believed to explain why the Arab, though small, can carry great weight. The animals' structure also explains the relation between structure and function.

A gurgling laugh came over the wire. Hearing it, young Whitcomb smiled: "He'll be here." Then to the doctor: "The paper is strong for 'true religion and unadvised'—don't you dare pull any progressive stuff at the reading desk tonight, if you care to keep his friendship."

"I'm glad he's coming—good, somebody to speak for me in the worst way," Billy Brent beamed in, flushing a little. "I'm a stranger, nobody's son nor grandson, in this neck of the woods. Pappy Jack knows me from my beginning—he'll give me a cheer."

A head shake answered him, but after a minute she said: "It's this way, you see—I got out his sermon for him the same as his clean hands. There is also the slang term "hookum snivy" with various meanings: (1) An imposition, such as getting food under false pretenses; (2) One who does this; (3) A crook of thick iron wire to loosen wooden bolts of doors from without.

According to the "Lexicon Belantrenum," "hookum snivy" is described as "stealing a man and a dog for nothing. DEATH FOR TWO
ENDS JOY RIDE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, July 25.—Two persons were carried to death when a sedan automobile plunged fifteen feet into the Gowanus canal at Degraw street, Brooklyn, early today.

Firemen raised the automobile from ten feet of water in which it was submerged and extracted two bodies, a man's and a girl's. The man had a driver's license made out to Frank P. Dowling, 338 Euclid avenue, Brooklyn, in his pocket. The girl has not been identified.

The fact that the automobile was observed zigzagging down Degraw street at a high rate of speed, and that, ignoring warning shouts it ran down a red-lanterned station which warned of the canal, led the police to believe the tragedy the culmination of a joy ride.

YANK DRIVER AND CAR WIN CLASSIC

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Le Mans, France, July 25.—An American automobile today won the classic Grand Prix for the first time. The victorious car, piloted by Joe Murphy, an American driver. Ralph de Palma, another American driver, finished second.

Guyot, French, finished third, but his place may be contested as it was claimed he received assistance in changing a tire.

Murphy's time was 4 hours, 7 minutes and 11 seconds.

De Palma's time was 4 hours, 32 minutes and 10 seconds.

De Palma rode in hard luck. Tire trouble caused him to re-start.

The French drivers did not rise to expectations. Boyer was compelled to drop out on the eighteenth lap due to engine trouble.

Murphy drove a Duesenberg car, as did Guyot.
